The investments may not be suitable to all the investors.
- b) Past performance of the Portfolio Manager does not indicate the future performance of the same. There is no assurance that the past performances will be repeated in future. Investors are not being offered any guaranteed or assured returns through any of the Investment Approach(es).
- c) The Portfolio Manager may appoint individual(s) as fund managers to manage certain portfolios or certain Investment Approach(es). The past performance of such fund manager(s) does not indicate the future performance of the services offered by such fund manager(s). There is no assurance that the past performances will be repeated in future.
- d) The names of the portfolios do not in any manner indicate their prospects or returns.
- e) The Portfolio Manager may change the Fund Manager in the interest of the Portfolio Management Service(s) at any time without assigning any reason to it and / or without any information to the investors. That said, the Portfolio Manager will strive to intimate the relevant Clients about the change of the fund manager(s) and the details of the new fund manager(s) within a reasonable timeframe after the change is effected.

- d) Investments in equity may be adversely affected by the performance of companies, changes in the economy, government policy, the market place, credit ratings and industry specific factors.
- g) Debt and other fixed income investments may be subject to changes in interest rates and/or liquidity, credit and reinvestment risks.
- h) Liquidity in the investments and performance of portfolio may be affected by trading volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures.
- i) Derivatives, futures and options are highly leveraged instruments and require a high degree of skill, diligence and expertise. Small price movements in the underlying security may have a large impact on the value.
- j) Appreciation in any of the Investment Approach(es) can be restricted in the event of a high asset allocation to cash, when stock appreciates. The performance of any Investment Approach(es) may also be affected due to any other asset allocation factors.
- k) When investments are restricted to a particular or few sector(s) under Investment Approach(es); there arises a risk called non-diversification or concentration risk. If the sector(s), for any reason, fails to perform, the portfolio value will be adversely affected.
- l) In the case of stock lending, risks relate to the defaults from counterparties with regard to securities lent and the corporate benefits accruing thereon. The Portfolio Manager is not responsible for any loss resulting from stock lending.
- m) Each portfolio will be exposed to various risks depending on the investment objective, investment strategy and the asset allocation. The investment objective, investment strategy and the asset allocation may differ from client to client. However, generally, highly concentrated portfolios with lesser number of stocks generally will be more volatile than a portfolio with a larger number of stocks.
- n) The values of the Portfolio may be affected by changes in the general market conditions and factors and forces affecting the capital markets, in particular, level of interest rates, various market related factors, trading volumes, settlement periods, transfer procedures, currency exchange rates, foreign investments, changes in government policies, taxation, political, economic and other developments, closure of stock exchanges, etc.

VALUEQUEST

- o) Risk may also arise due to an inherent nature / risk in the stock markets such as, volatility, market scams, circular trading, price rigging, liquidity changes, de-listing of Securities or market closure, relatively small number of scrip's accounting for a large proportion of trading volume among others.
- p) Liquidity or Marketability Risk: Certain securities may become impossible to sell or not marketable due to the absence of any potential buyers. In such situations, the investment in the securities may be lost or its realization may be inordinately delayed.
- q) Interest Rate Risk: As with all debt securities, changes in interest rates may affect valuation of the Portfolios, as the prices of securities generally increase as interest rates decline and generally decrease as interest rates rise. Prices of long-term securities generally fluctuate more in response to interest rate changes than prices of short-term securities. Indian debt markets can be volatile leading to the possibility of price movements up or down in fixed income securities and thereby to possible movements in the valuations of Portfolios.
- r) The co-investment portfolio will consist largely of equity, equity-linked instruments and other convertible Securities issued by investee companies, whose securities are not publicly traded. Such investments involve a high degree of business and financial risk, as well as company-specific, industry-specific, and macro-economic risks, which may result in substantial loss to the value of the co-invest portfolio. The investee companies may face intense competition, including competition from companies with greater financial wherewithal and superior resources. The Portfolio Manager can offer no assurance that the marketing efforts of the investee company will succeed or that its business will succeed or be profitable. Further, the target Securities are volatile and are prone to fluctuations in value. Investments such as these carry a high degree of risk and there is a risk of loss of the entire amount invested.
- s) While the Portfolio Manager shall take all reasonable steps with respect to the co-investment portfolio in a prudent manner, such decisions may not always provide to be profitable or correct. Consequently, the Client shall assume the loss on the investment, and, consequently, the growth of the co-investment portfolio.
- t) The Portfolio Manager is neither responsible nor liable for any losses resulting from the Co-Investment Portfolio Management Services.
- u) After the commencement of the term of the Co-Investment Portfolio Management Services, the Portfolio Manager may not get the opportunity to offer the Clients any suitable co-investment opportunities.
